Circular No: 07/2017

8th March 2017

To all Affiliates/Office Bearers/CC/GC Members

Dear Comrades,

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

The year 2017 marks 100 years of November Revolution in the erstwhile Tsar ruled land of Russia as we the working class across the countries call it, which in essence and spirit is the first successful revolution by the working class of a country to take over the Government from the exploiters.

Incidentally, 8th March 1917 (according to old style Julian calendar followed at that time in Russia, it was February 23rd) was observed as International Women's Day in Russia.

It is more than a quarter of century that the USSR does not exist and the era of liberalisation of world economy has started spreading its tentacles almost from that time onwards.

The impulse of century old November Revolution played its historic role in giving women their proper place in the society, but today's world as well as Indian socio political scenario shows clearly enough that women have just started their own fight, which have miles to go. Keeping this important factor under consideration women at all the levels of the society need to come together holding hands to fight out the menace of the present world order which is affecting the women and children in the worst possible manner.

On this centenary year of November Revolution, let us take the oath to move together to fight out and achieve the cherished exploitation free society that was brought by the revolution.

All our State Level Committees are advised to organise programmes on this occasion in a befitting manner on a date and time, preferably within this month, as per local convenience.

With greetings,

Yours comradely,

Kalyani Chakraborty
